ward movement in stocks this morning which was entirely due to the improvement of the financial aspect in London. Early private cables announced that 2,500,000 pounds of gold were on the way from the Continent to the Bank of Eegland, and that confidence on the London Stock Exchange had consequently to a large extent been restored. Money there was easier, and the early London prices for American stocks before the opening of this market were all from 114 to 3½ points higher than the closing figures last night. Of course these favorable advices had wholesome effect on this morning's market, and at the opening prices were firm and in the first hour, although the market was extremely wild and irregular, prices advanced 1 to 2½ per cent. New YORK, Nov. 11.—Cotton—Messrs Hubbard, Price & Co., in their cotton cir cular to-night, say: "Early cables fron London this morning reported a decide improvement in the financial situation there inprovement in the financial situation there, and the Liverpool market evidently felt the effect of such cheering advices, for the first dispatches from there indicated an improvement of one-sixty-fourth, and later another sixty-fourth was added to this, although the subsequent advance was lost before the close. Here the market opened at an advance of 10 points, which, however, was speedily lost when rumors of further failures on the New York Stock Exchange finally materialized in the suspension of three of its most prominent firms, and for a time the cotton market was very weak. At the close, however, a slight recovery was effected, which left the market two to three points higher than last evening. The question of how far the present financial disturbance is likely to extend is now the dominant one in all speculative markets, and we are glad to feel that in the opinion of many whose judgment is entitled to consideration that the worst is over."
